

Moderator

Marina Gandolfo | Istat

15.00/15.10

Welcome address

Gian Carlo Blangiardo | Istat President

15.10/15.20

European Commission perspective

David Ferroni | DG RTD Research & Innovation European Commission, Project Officer

15.20/15.35

MAKSWELL Project Overview

Maria Grazia Calza | Istat Project Manager

Main results of the project:

15.35/16.00

Use of remote sensing data to improve spatial resolution of well-being and poverty indicators

Nikos Tzavidis | University of Southampton

Ralf Münnich | University of Trier

16.00/16.25

Improving poverty measure using scanner data

Monica Pratesi | University of Pisa

Paul Smith | University of Southampton

Break

16.30/16.50

Using well-being and sustainability indicators for policy

Fabio Bacchini | Istat Project Scientific Coordinator

16.50/17.30

Round table: addressing the future

Martin Karlberg | EC Eurostat (tbc)

Federico Giammusso | Ministry of Treasury, Italy (tbc)

Gaby Umbach | GlobalSTAT or OECD (tbc)

17.30/17.45

Q&A and closure

The Final Conference of the H2020 MAKSWELL Project will take place as a fully virtual event.

Focus will be on the most relevant results of the three-year research activity carried out by the MAKSWELL's partners.

Statistical methodologies for improving and extending the measurement frameworks for well-being and sustainability will be presented and the way forward to deepen their use for policy making.

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 770643

PARTNERS

